SCHOOLS ARE NOT THE PROBLEM !!!

Man has three incredibly strong genetic survival traits !

1. The need for food,
2. The need for shelter.
3. The need to reproduce for existence.

When one gets on a government program, the first two are a given and you are financially rewarded for the third. If you are not going to work at 7:00 AM, you are not going to bed at 11:00 PM. Therefore, it is very common to hang around bars and carryouts and hook up with friends.

Now here is George, on the same program who has a 2 year old Lexus. Wow !!! How does that happen ???

Well you find out that George has a side business selling drugs etc. Soooo, you decide that with your friend to get in the same business. While you are on a government program which enables you to survive, YOUR STILL WANT WHAT GEORGE AND OTHERS HAVE !

When the morning news consists of a shooting on the West side, the East side etc. It is not about someone scratching your car, or asking your girlfriend out, it is the fact that you are encroaching on my territory.

Oh, by the way the problem is the GUNS !!!

(Look how well LAWS controlling Drugs HAS WORKED) you!

nope

The same individuals frequently fathers 1-3 kids with the same or different women. As a taxpayer, you enhance their monthly income. The mothers do not have jobs either, they are on your dime. The family typically is not functioning in a constructive way, no organization. There is a lot of talking with no real enforcement of structure.

There are 168 hours in a week, if a child's attendance is perfect, schools have them 30 hours. The remaining 138 hours are the responsibility of the parent or guardian. They exist because of your tax dollars ! They are in a position to control the: play time, TV time, phone time, study time and bed time etc. Now in a dysfunctional setting, there are few if any rules that exist or are consistently enforced. The child is absent frequently, does not do homework, no consistent parent support. You do know what the issue is about ??? POOR SCHOOLS, POOR SCHOOLS !

Well, the state is right on top of this issue !!! They are going to select the leadership for the district. SPEND MORE MONEY FOR PROGRAMS to look good. Wow !!
We are on it !!

If the state has a solution, why not share it with districts instead of taking over all local control ???

The success of school districts again and again correlate directly with the income level of the district.

Those who have sacrificed, worked hard to have the income to live in an above average community know the true value of education and had to be consistent and organized to get where they are. They are determined to pass those values and the work ethic on to their kids. It is evident in the performance of those districts !

* Requirements for a teaching certificate are the same throughout the state. The districts with a D or F grade determined by the state just didn't hire all the poor teachers.

If parents are on a government program, and their child is failing, assuming there is no proven physical or mental disability, your monthly income is reduced by 10-15 % ?

We need universal military training. A great opportunity for furthering ones education, learning structure and getting something for our taxpayer dollars and not have our country slip to third world status.

Oh, the vouchers, well organized school districts have served our country well through the years. Because of the above reasons, some parents want to run from urban districts. Oh, the voucher will help further dismantle districts while private groups line their pockets.

What about starting our own fire department, or yet our own police department ??? We can make money by grasping for taxpayer dollars to do so.

Leaders need to move to the press box look at the total picture. We have been standing on the sideline with a limited view. Oh those bad school districts !!! We need to change the leadership !!!
