HISTORY

My family grew up in the White Oak, a suburb of Pittsburgh, PA. I was the youngest of three. After completing my education at Xavier University in Cincinnati, I came to Columbus where I have made this wonderful city my permanent home for the past 35 years. I have been married to my husband, Michael, for 26 years and we currently reside in Upper Arlington and Hilton Head Island, S.C. with our four cats and two dogs. I am also supportive of my husband and his cause of the development of leadership talent among young adults. Michael serves on the advisory boards of The Ohio State University, Buckeye Fellows Leadership Program, The Columbus Historical Society, The St. Charles Preparatory School and The Columbus Foundation, Ambassadors Board.

I have been involved in animal welfare for over 20 years, as a volunteer, standing up for animal rights. I believe that it is my mission to be the voice for animals and their humane treatment. I have assisted Senator Jim Hughes on SB130, The Puppy Mill Bill, which helped create standards for humane conditions for the animals in puppy mills. The success on passing SB130 was a start however in my opinion, was limited in its scope and needs additional review and changes.
