My Rights and My Son

House Bill 49 –

State Operating Budget Opposition to Ohio Chapter AAP proposal on vaccination requirements.

May 24, 2017

I am writing because I oppose the self-serving amendments to HB 49 being offered by the Ohio AAP. My son was greatly injured by a vaccine, the one and only shot we ever gave him. I find this ridiculous that as parents we have to continue to fight for medical freedom not only for our children but for ourselves. Physicians like to treat vaccination as a one size fits all but like many medications there are adverse reactions. No matter how small they are still reactions and being forced to have someone tell me what I HAVE TO place into my body is completely wrong. Physicians as well as manufactures have ZERO liability (which I also think is a load of crap) when it comes to both vaccine injury and death. It has also been noted that 3.6 BILLION dollars has been administrated to injured individuals through the Vaccine Injury Compensation Program. It's time to STOP acting like vaccinating for everything is the answer because it's not. We have some of the sickest children and we are the United States!!

Many "out breaks" I have to question (since it is an adverse reaction listed on the vaccine insert) if it wasn't recently vaccinated children who spread it. I mean the live vaccines state that the person who received the vaccine should be "incubated" for a 2-week period. If a unvaccinated individual doesn't have the disease then how could one possibly spread it? That would be like saying I am going to give you a cold yet... I don't have a cold.

I find it odd that the AAP is asking for an amendment to a budget bill. To me as I am sure others out there this just screams conflict of interest. This most certainly does NOT have anything to do with protecting citizens rather it makes you question who is really benefiting from things.

As I stated above my son Levi has been greatly affected by the single shot, the vitamin K, that was given to him within hours after his birth. He didn't even need it but I was harassed at the hospital. I know that there can be a lot of "mis-information" spread out there on the internet etc. But it is hard to dispute when a parent actually gets their hands on the inserts and can read for themselves, it's hard to dispute when a parent KNOWS THEIR CHILD and knows something is WRONG... You can spat off lots of "textbook" definitions but the point of the matter is... we are all biologically different. The epigenome is different, these different toxins (and that is in vaccines... the adjuvants) can harm some people's genome. Stop trying to make an extra buck off my health. Stop trying to take away my rights as a human being...I don't want the shot – my children can't have the shot, and it's no one's darn business who has had the shot and who hasn't...

Thank you,

Alicia Webb
