Re: Ohio H.B. 263

Dear Representative Koehler:

The Professional Certification Coalition (PCC) writes to share our views regarding H.B. 263. We appreciate that this bill aims to advance the important goal of reducing recidivism by making it easier for an ex-offender to earn a living in certain occupations. Unfortunately, in its current form, H.B. 263 removes important protections for the public and could have an adverse effect on private certification organizations' enforcement of their ethics codes or eligibility requirements. We respectfully request that H.B. 263 be amended to protect the public by permitting both state licensing boards and private certification organizations to consider relevant criminal conduct and violations of civil laws for which individuals have been provided due process.

The PCC is a nonprofit association formed to address legislative initiatives that affect professional certification programs, those who hold private certification credentials, and the many constituencies that rely on professional certification. The PCC currently has more than 100 organizational members, including non-governmental professional certification organizations, professional societies, and service providers. The PCC's members reflect a wide spectrum of professions, including health care, professional and civil engineering, financial services, and information technology, among many others. Our founding organizations – the American Society of Association Executives (the leading organization for association management) and the Institute for Credentialing Excellence (the leading developer of accreditation standards for professional certification programs) – govern the PCC.

The PCC supports the goal of H.B. 263 to broaden access to licensure for ex-offenders so they may earn a living in their chosen profession. We agree that simply having a criminal conviction record should not stigmatize or automatically disqualify an individual from an occupational license. It is critical, however, that licensure boards have the ability to consider underlying facts relating to an applicant's past conduct so they may make independent, individual determinations about that applicant's fitness to practice the profession with the state's endorsement.

Not all professions are the same, nor are all criminal convictions. Members of the public view licensure as the state's recognition that the licensed individual is qualified to perform the profession safely and competently, without harming public safety, health, or welfare. As currently drafted, however, H.B. 263 fails to provide that protection to the public. Although the bill permits licensing boards to develop a list of disqualifying offenses, the list may include "only criminal offenses that are directly related to the duties and responsibilities of the licensed occupation." The bill would then prohibit the licensing authority from denying an initial license to any individual based “solely or in part” on judicial findings or convictions for any unlisted offense. In addition, the bill would preclude the licensing authority from considering even a listed offense if more than five years have elapsed since the conviction or completion of a sentence, unless there has been an intervening conviction of a crime or the conviction related to a crime of violence or a sexual crime. In considering convictions or judicial findings for a listed offense within the permissible time window, the bill puts the burden on the licensing authority to establish by a “clear and convincing evidence” standard that disqualification is warranted based on a need “to ensure public safety” or other factors.

Under this framework, licensing authorities would be unable even to consider an applicant’s conduct that had been admitted or proven beyond a reasonable doubt in circumstances in which that conduct is relevant to the licensing decision, including in these illustrative situations:

- The applicant has been convicted of fraud or identity theft and is seeking a health care professional license with the intention of taking a home health care position for vulnerable adults. Although the job would place the applicant in a position in which the applicant can easily gain access to financial records of home care patients, the conviction does not directly relate to the duties and responsibilities of a licensed health care professional, endanger public safety, or constitute a violent or sexual offense.
- The applicant fraudulently claimed to hold a license in one profession and is now seeking a license in a different profession that would place the applicant in a position of trust.
- The applicant has several past convictions for check fraud and is seeking a CPA license; the completion of the applicant’s last sentence was more than five years ago, but the applicant has pending charges, not yet adjudicated, for check fraud.
- The applicant was charged with child sexual abuse but entered into a plea deal to plead guilty to a child endangerment charge, while admitting the underlying facts; five years have now elapsed since completion of the applicant’s sentence, and the applicant seeks a license as a teacher, or a psychologist, or a similar profession that would place the applicant in unsupervised contact with a child.

As these examples demonstrate, the current structure of H.B. 263 exposes the public to substantial risks by forcing licensing authorities to turn a blind eye to an applicant’s history simply due to the passage of time, mandating approval of a license unless the authorities can meet a clear and convincing evidence standard, and requiring authorities to develop comprehensive knowledge of the elements of all criminal offenses so that they can develop lists of disqualifying offenses.

To avoid these unintended negative consequences, the PCC recommends amending H.B. 263 to instead adopt a structure similar Pennsylvania Senate Bill 637 (attached), which was enacted into law earlier this year. That law expressly endorses the role of licensing authorities in protecting public health and welfare, not just public safety, and does not prohibit such authorities from considering any information that is relevant to a licensure decision. For example, PA S.B. 637 allows a licensing authority to consider an applicant’s criminal conviction that does not directly relate to the applicable duties, functions, and responsibilities of the profession, when the board determines, based on an individualized assessment, that the applicant “pose[s] an unacceptable risk to the people to whom the applicant would interact in the conduct of the profession.”

Even so, the Pennsylvania law ensures that a criminal record is not an automatic bar to professional opportunities. Under the bill, an individual's conviction of a crime would not automatically preclude issuance of a license, certificate, registration, or permit. The bill requires each of the boards and commissions to work toward adopting regulations listing each of the offenses that they consider as excluding an individual from consideration for certification, registration, or licensure.<sup>1</sup> It also establishes a procedure for applicants with past conviction histories to demonstrate sufficient rehabilitation to be granted a license and sets out a balanced list of factors for a board considering a rehabilitation petition to consider. Ex-offenders get a fair opportunity to show they should be granted a license based on the individual circumstances of the facts underlying their offenses and their subsequent rehabilitation, but they are not entitled to have their personal history erased from consideration.

The public expects licensing authorities to serve as gatekeepers in this way, as do private certification organizations. Private certification organizations in regulated professions rely on licensing boards to exercise their authority to deny licenses to individuals who have engaged in conduct that casts serious doubt on their fitness to practice the profession, or indicates that the individual poses an unacceptable risk to the people to whom the applicant would interact in the conduct of the profession. As non-governmental entities without the resources or legal authority to conduct full-fledged investigations, issue subpoenas, and hold trial-type proceedings, most private certification organizations rely on agency determinations in their own eligibility and ethics code enforcement.

The PCC applauds Ohio for advancing important pathways to employment opportunities for ex-offenders through H.B. 263. We respectfully request, however, that the legislature amend the bill as suggested above to better protect the public.

Thank you for your consideration of these amendments. If you have any questions regarding this letter, please feel free to reach out to us using the contact information identified below.

(4) The licensing board or licensing commission shall render a final adjudication or decision on any exceptions to the decision of a hearing examiner or any applications for review within 90 days of the filing of the exceptions or applications, provided that a board or commission may delegate to a hearing examiner the authority to render a final adjudication or decision in such cases as deemed appropriate.

§ 3106. Suspension.

(a) Temporary suspension.--A licensing board or licensing commission may temporarily suspend a license, certificate, registration or permit under circumstances as determined by the licensing board or licensing commission to be an immediate and clear danger to public health and safety. The following apply:

(1) The licensing board or commission shall issue an order to that effect without a hearing, but upon due notice, to the licensee concerned at the licensee's last known address, which shall include a written statement of all allegations against the licensee.

(2) After issuing the order under paragraph (1), the licensing board or licensing commission shall commence formal action to suspend, revoke or restrict the license, certificate, registration or permit of the person concerned as otherwise provided for by law.

(3) All actions shall be taken promptly and without delay.

(b) Hearing.--Within 30 days following the issuance of an order of temporary suspension, the licensing board or licensing commission shall conduct or cause to be conducted a preliminary hearing to determine whether there is a prima facie case supporting the suspension. The following apply:

(1) The licensee whose license, certificate, registration or permit has been temporarily suspended may:

- (i) be present at the preliminary hearing;
- (ii) be represented by counsel;
- (iii) cross-examine witnesses;
- (iv) inspect physical evidence;
- (v) call witnesses;

(c) Restoration.--Restoration of a license, certificate, registration or permit shall be made as provided by law in the case of revocation or suspension of the license, certificate, registration or permit.

(a) Authorization.--

(1) The commissioner, after consultation with the licensing boards and licensing commissions, shall have the power to adopt a schedule of civil penalties for operating without a current, registered, unsuspended and unrevoked license, registration, certificate or permit and for violating a provision of the licensing board's or licensing commission's respective acts or regulations relating to the conduct or operation of a business or facility licensed by the licensing boards and licensing commissions. The following apply:

(i) The schedule of penalties shall not be applicable to disciplinary matters under the jurisdiction of a licensing board or licensing commission unless that licensing board or licensing commission has approved the schedule.

(ii) The commissioner shall transmit notice of the adoption of the schedule of penalties, guidelines for the imposition of the schedule of penalties and procedures for appeal to the Legislative Reference Bureau for publication in the Pennsylvania Bulletin. The commissioner shall, within two years of the publication of the notice, promulgate a regulation specifying the schedule of penalties, guidelines and procedures.

(iii) A penalty shall not exceed the sum of $1,000 per violation.

(iv) Duly authorized agents of the bureau shall have the power and authority to issue citations and impose penalties for violations.

(v) A penalty imposed may be appealed to a hearing examiner or the licensing board or licensing commission pursuant to the regulations promulgated under section 3105(b) (relating to hearing examiners).

(vi) If the appeal is initially to a hearing examiner, the relevant licensing board or licensing commission shall render a decision on any exceptions to the decision of the hearing examiner or on any applications for review in accordance with section 3105(d).

(vii) All proceedings shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of 2 Pa.C.S. (relating to administrative law and procedure).

(2) The commissioner shall expunge the disciplinary record of a licensee, registrant, certificate holder or permit holder if the imposition of discipline was for a violation involving failure to complete continuing education requirements or practicing for six months or less on a lapsed license, registration, certificate or permit, subject to the following:

(i) The licensee, registrant, certificate holder or permit holder must make written application to the commissioner for expungement not earlier than four years from the final disposition of the disciplinary record.

(ii) The disciplinary record must be the only disciplinary record that the licensee, registrant, certificate holder or permit holder has with either the commissioner or a licensing board or licensing commission under the commissioner's jurisdiction.

(iii) The licensee, registrant, certificate holder or permit holder must not be the subject of an active investigation related to professional or occupational conduct.

(iv) The licensee, registrant, certificate holder or permit holder must not be in a current disciplinary status, and any fees or fines assessed must be paid in full.

(v) The licensee, registrant, certificate holder or permit holder must not have had a disciplinary record previously expunged by the commissioner.

(vi) Disciplinary records involving imposition of discipline for violations other than those identified in this paragraph shall not be eligible for expungement.

(vii) The licensee, registrant, certificate holder or permit holder shall pay all costs associated with the expungement as established by the commissioner by regulation.

(3) Nothing in this subsection shall prohibit a licensing board or licensing commission from using previous discipline for any regulatory purpose or from releasing records of previous discipline upon request from law enforcement or other governmental body as permitted by law.

(b) Additional powers.--In addition to the disciplinary powers and duties of the licensing boards and licensing commissions within the bureau under their respective practice acts, licensing boards and licensing commissions shall have the power, respectively:

(1) To impose discipline, including, but not limited to, a civil penalty of up to $10,000 per violation on a licensee or unlicensed person who violates a lawful disciplinary order of the licensing board.

(2) To impose discipline, including, but not limited to, a civil penalty of up to $10,000 per violation on a licensee or unlicensed person who aids and abets the unlicensed practice of a profession, occupation or business.

(3) To levy a civil penalty of not more than $10,000 per violation on a corporation, partnership, institution, association or sole proprietorship which aids and abets an individual in the unlicensed practice of a profession. This penalty shall not, however, be levied against a person solely as a consequence of that person being a patient or client of the unlicensed individual.

(4) To levy a civil penalty of not more than $10,000 per violation on a licensee or unlicensed person who violates a provision of the applicable licensing act or licensing board regulation.

(5) To assess against the respondent determined to be in violation of the disciplinary provisions administered by a licensing board or licensing commission in a disciplinary proceeding pending before the licensing board or licensing commission for final determination, as part of the sanction, the costs of investigation underlying that disciplinary action. The cost of investigation shall not include those costs incurred by the licensing board or licensing commission after the filing of formal actions or disciplinary charges against the respondent.

(6) To collect all fees, costs, fines and penalties assessed as a result of a disciplinary proceeding before a licensing board or licensing commission.

(7) To deny, suspend or revoke a license, registration, certification or permit for failure to pay any penalty, fee, interest or cost assessed as a result of a disciplinary proceeding before a licensing board or licensing commission.

(c) Restrictions.--

(1) Decisions rendered by a licensing board or licensing commission on any exceptions to the decision of a hearing examiner or on an application for review in accordance with section 3105(d) to impose a civil penalty under this section shall require the same number of votes required for the licensing board or licensing commission to impose a civil penalty under any other act.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be construed to restrict the powers and duties under any other act of a licensing board or licensing commission in disciplinary matters, except that a licensing board or licensing commission may not impose a civil penalty under any other act for the same violation for which a civil penalty has been imposed under this section.

(d) Status of civil penalty.--A civil penalty, together with any associated fee, interest or cost, imposed under this section or imposed by a licensing board or licensing commission under another act shall be a judgment in favor of the bureau upon the person or the property of the person, whether real or personal, and including any after-acquired property, upon whom the civil penalty is imposed. The Attorney General shall be responsible for enforcing the judgments in courts of competent jurisdiction in accordance with 42 Pa.C.S. (relating to judiciary and judicial procedure).

(e) Entry of judgment.--Within 60 months of the final disposition of a disciplinary case, if an unpaid civil penalty, fee, interest and cost of a licensee total $1,000 or more, the licensing board or licensing commission, or the respective agent of the licensing board or licensing commission, may transmit a copy of the final disposition to the prothonotary of the court of common pleas in the county where the licensee or property of the licensee upon whom the penalty, fee, interest and cost are imposed is located. The following apply:

(1) The prothonotary shall enter and docket the copy of the final disposition without requiring payment of costs as a condition precedent to the entry of the copy of the final disposition.

(2) The total of the penalty, fee, interest and cost shall be entered as a judgment upon the licensee regardless of whether the amount has been ordered to be paid in installments.

(f) Priority of lien.--A lien obtained under this section shall maintain its priority indefinitely, and no writ of revival need be filed.

(g) Execution.--A writ of execution may directly issue upon the lien without the issuance and prosecution to judgment of a writ of scire facias, provided that a notice of the filing and the effect of the lien be provided to the licensee not less than 10 days before the execution on the lien. Notice may be sent by registered mail to the last known address of the licensee.

(h) Exception to execution.--The lien shall have no effect upon any stock of goods, wares or merchandise regularly sold or leased in the ordinary course of business by the licensee against whom the lien has been entered, unless and until a writ of execution has been issued and a levy made upon the stock of goods, wares and merchandise.

(i) Satisfaction.--Once a judgment is paid in full to the licensing board or licensing commission, or the respective agent of the licensing board or licensing commission, the licensing

this section as an alternative to refusing to issue or renew, suspending, revoking or limiting a license as a result of a finding that the applicant for a license, certificate, registration or permit lacks the fitness to engage in the occupation due to a criminal conviction or is otherwise ineligible for licensure due to a criminal conviction. The following shall apply:

(1) The applicable licensing board or commission shall determine the period of time during which the applicant shall operate under a restricted license. The minimum period of time shall be one year. The maximum period of time shall be two years.

(2) The applicable licensing board or licensing commission shall notify the applicant of the time period under paragraph (1) and the conditions placed on the restricted license under subsection (c).

(b) Demonstration of fitness.--Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary and the criminal conviction, an applicant for a restricted license may demonstrate fitness for issuance of a restricted license to practice by introducing evidence of the following:

(1) While incarcerated, the individual maintained a record of good behavior, including the successful completion of any required rehabilitative programming offered by a county correctional facility or the Department of Corrections.

(2) If incarcerated by a county correctional facility or the Department of Corrections and enrolled in a program regarding the occupation for which a restricted license is sought, the applicant successfully completed the requisite education or training requirements of the program.

(3) The applicant has not been found to be in violation of probation or parole.

(4) The applicant has demonstrated a commitment to living a law-abiding life, which may be established by a letter of recommendation from the applicant's probation officer, parole officer or appropriate official within the county correctional facility or the Department of Corrections, or by any other means, at the discretion of the licensing board or licensing commission, as applicable.

If the restricted license holder meets all of the other qualifications for licensure under the applicable practice act, the licensing board or licensing commission, as appropriate, shall issue a license to practice that occupation.

(f) Construction.--Nothing in this section shall be construed to restrict any of the other powers and duties of the licensing board or licensing commission, as applicable.

§ 3113. Consideration of criminal convictions.

(a) Applicability.--This section shall apply to licensing boards and licensing commissions notwithstanding the following:

(1) Any other statutory provision to the contrary regarding the consideration of good moral character, crimes of moral turpitude or ethical or honest practice with respect to disqualification of licensure due to criminal conviction.

(2) 18 Pa.C.S. § 9124(c) (relating to use of records by licensing agencies).

(3) Any other statutory provision that disqualifies an individual from holding a license, certificate, registration or permit due to the individual's criminal conviction.

(a.1) Consideration.--A licensing board or licensing commission may not consider the provisions specified under subsection (a) in determining whether an individual qualifies for a license, certificate, registration or permit but instead shall determine the individual's qualification for a license, certificate, registration or permit in accordance with the procedures specified under this section.

(b) Analysis of criminal convictions.--Except as provided in subsections (d), (e) and (f), a licensing board or a licensing commission shall engage in a two-stage analysis of the criminal convictions of the applicant. The following shall apply:

(1) The first stage of the analysis shall determine whether the criminal conviction directly relates to the occupation, trade or profession for which the individual seeks licensure by reviewing the schedule of offenses in section 3117 (relating to list of criminal offenses). If the offense is found on the list of offenses that are directly related to the occupation, trade or profession, the licensing board or licensing commission shall then determine whether licensure of the individual would pose a substantial risk to the health and safety of the individual's patients or clients or the public or a substantial risk of further criminal convictions by conducting the individualized assessment specified in subsection (c). There shall be a rebuttable presumption that licensure of the individual with a criminal conviction that directly relates to the occupation, trade or profession would pose a substantial risk to the health and safety of the individual's patients or clients or the public or a substantial risk of further criminal convictions. The individual may rebut the presumption by showing evidence of rehabilitation, as specified in the factors in subsection (c).

(2) If, after reviewing the schedule of offenses in section 3117, the criminal conviction is determined not to be directly related to the occupation, trade or profession, the licensing board or licensing commission shall proceed to the second stage of the analysis of the criminal conviction. During the second stage of the analysis, the licensing board or licensing commission shall determine whether, due to the nature of the criminal conviction, licensure of the individual would pose a substantial risk to the health and safety of the individual's patients or clients or the public or a substantial risk of further criminal convictions. If so, the licensing board or licensing commission shall conduct the individualized assessment specified in subsection (c). The individual may rebut the determination by showing evidence of rehabilitation, as specified in the factors in subsection (c).

(c) Individualized assessment.--A licensing board or licensing commission shall conduct an individualized assessment of the individual with respect to criminal convictions and rehabilitation. The licensing board or licensing commission shall only consider the following factors in order to determine whether the individual meets the requirements for issuance of a license, certificate, registration or permit under subsection (b) (1) or (b) (2):

(1) Whether the criminal conduct for which the individual was convicted involved an act or threat of harm against the individual. For purposes of this paragraph, the term "harm" includes harm to the victim, the personal property of the victim or reputation of the victim.

(2) The facts and circumstances surrounding the criminal conviction.

(3) The number of criminal convictions.

(4) Increase in age or maturity of the individual since the date of the criminal conviction.

(5) The individual's criminal history or lack of criminal history after the date of conviction.

(6) Successful completion of education and training activities, including those in a county correctional facility or the Department of Corrections.

(7) References from employers or others, including personnel of the county correctional facility or the Department of Corrections.

(8) Progress in personal rehabilitation since the conviction.

(9) Whether the individual meets all other licensing qualifications of the applicable practice act, including any examination requirements.

(10) The individual's criminal history, or lack of criminal history, after the date of the criminal conviction while engaged in the same or similar profession or occupation.

(11) Any other factor deemed relevant to the licensing board or licensing commission regarding the fitness of the individual for licensure.

(d) Sexual offenses.--When determining eligibility for licensure as a health care practitioner, a licensing board or licensing commission may not issue a license, registration, certificate or permit or otherwise allow an individual to practice as a health care practitioner if the individual has been convicted of a sexual offense.

(e) Crimes of violence.--An individual convicted of a crime of violence as defined in 42 Pa.C.S. § 9714 (relating to sentences for second and subsequent offenses) may be granted a license, registration, certificate or permit by a licensing board or licensing commission if all of the following apply:

(1) If the individual was incarcerated, at least three years have elapsed since release from incarceration. The period of three years shall be tolled for a violation of parole.

(2) If the individual is serving a sentence other than a period of confinement in a State or county correctional facility, at least three years have elapsed since imposition of sentence.

(3) The individual has remained conviction-free during the periods specified in paragraph (1) or (2).

(4) The individual demonstrates significant rehabilitation since the criminal conviction.

(5) The licensing board or licensing commission determines, by using the factors in subsection (c), except for subsection (c) (8), that licensure of the individual does not pose a substantial risk to the health and safety of the individual's patients or clients or the public or a substantial risk of further criminal convictions.

(f) Drug trafficking.--Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the provisions of the respective practice acts relating to felony drug convictions under the act of April 14, 1972 (P.L.233, No.64), known as The Controlled Substance, Drug, Device and Cosmetic Act, or a conviction for an offense under the laws of another jurisdiction which, if committed in this Commonwealth, would be a felony under the Controlled Substance, Drug, Device and Cosmetic Act, shall only apply to an individual who has been convicted of a drug trafficking offense. The licensing board or licensing commission may show, by a preponderance of the evidence, that the amount or weight of the controlled substance involved in a conviction meets the requirements for a drug trafficking offense.

(g) Construction.--Nothing in this section shall be construed to restrict any of the other powers and duties of a licensing board or licensing commission in disciplinary or licensure matters.

(h) Public information.--Except for name, address and other identifying information, a determination under this section shall be public information.

(i) Definitions.--As used in this section, the following words and phrases shall have the meanings given to them in this subsection unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

An applicant with a criminal history who, based on a review of the best practices guide published under section 3116 (relating to best practices guide), is unable to determine whether the applicant's criminal record would preclude the issuance of a license, certificate, registration or permit may file a petition for preliminary review with the licensing board or licensing commission under the bureau seeking a preliminary decision on whether the applicant's criminal history would disqualify the applicant from receiving a license, certificate, registration or permit, subject to the following:

(1) If the petition is filed separately from a formal application for a license, certificate, registration or permit, the licensing board or licensing commission shall issue a preliminary decision within 45 days. The preliminary decision shall be limited to a declaration of whether a conviction on the petitioner's criminal history record falls within the set of convictions that the licensing board or licensing commission has previously determined may be directly related to the profession or occupation over which the licensing board or licensing commission has authority.

(2) If the licensing board or licensing commission determines that a conviction on the petitioner's criminal history record is directly related to the occupation, trade or profession, the notice of the preliminary decision shall inform the petitioner that the determination is not final or binding as to whether the petitioner qualifies for a license, certificate, registration or permit, and that the petitioner has the opportunity to present evidence of the factors specified in section 3113(c) (relating to consideration of criminal convictions) in connection with any subsequent formal application for a license, certificate, registration or permit. Where appropriate, the notice may also inform the petitioner that a sexual offense, crime of violence or drug trafficking offense may prevent licensure in accordance with section 3113(d), (e) and (f).

(3) The licensing board or licensing commission may charge a filing fee, which shall not exceed $45, to be paid for each petition for preliminary review filed on or after January 1, 2022.
