

HOUSE CRIMINAL JUSTICE COMMITTEE – Proponent Testimony, HB 8, March 11th,

Chairman LaRe, Vice Chair Swearingen, Ranking Member Leland, and members of the committee, thank you for holding this hearing and for the opportunity to provide testimony.

My name is Jeff Dillon, and I am the Ohio Legislative Director for Americans for Prosperity (AFP). As one of the largest grassroots organizations in the country, AFP is driving long-term solutions to some of the country's biggest problems. Our organization, and its thousands of activists across Ohio, are dedicated to breaking barriers that stand in the way of people realizing their full potential. Removing or reducing these barriers, in whatever forms they take, helps move our society toward one of mutual benefit, where people succeed by helping others improve their lives and by transforming their communities. Accordingly, I urge you to support and favorably report House Bill 8.

There are multiple aspects and policy areas contained within AFP's overall criminal justice reform efforts, many of which are complex, but my organization also stands behind commonsense, straightforward fixes like HB 8. With few exceptions, the bill will require interrogations of suspects being held in places of confinement to be recorded by either audio or audiovisual means. As Representatives West and Plummer pointed out during their sponsor testimony, adopting this practice will afford added layers of protection to everyone involved in the process, and will ensure that those standing accused of a crime have a much more substantive record of interactions with law enforcement.

Audio and audiovisual recordings of interrogations are important because they can convey a much greater level of detail and nuance than a simple transcript can, and also can provide a greater depth of understanding to judges, prosecutors, and juries as a criminal case proceeds. The simple changes to the Ohio Revised Code outlined in HB 8 will decrease the risk of wrongful conviction, enhance the protection of rights for people standing accused of criminal acts, and also protect law enforcement officials by creating a clearer record of what can oftentimes be emotionally charged, stressful situations, wherein even the most diligent professionals can commit simple human error.

This bill passed the full House and Senate Judiciary Committee unanimously during the 133rd General Assembly, but simply ran out of time to receive final consideration before the session concluded. AFP – Ohio would like to thank Representatives West and Plummer for reintroducing the bill so quickly at the beginning of the 134th General Assembly, and we're proud to lend our support to their renewed legislative efforts.

Thank you again, Mr. Chairman, for the opportunity to offer testimony today. AFP – Ohio supports HB 8, and on behalf of my organization and our affiliated activists, I urge the members of the committee to favorably report this bill. Thank you.
