

I have been hosting for over two years in what was a long term rental. Although a little more work the income is higher and the people are wonderful. It brings new people to our little town of Mantua which has been trying to put itself on the map. When I first started this I thought who would stay here, but surprisingly lots of people for all different reasons. Proximity to Cleveland, close to Cuyahoga National Park, even our historic Mormon history. There is no question that on the whole people who rent thru Airbnb unless to party are way better than long term renters and respect you home and your community.

Sincerely,

Faith Osborn
