

I have been hosting for over a year and before I speak about the financials I want to say every guest has been respectful of the home and the community and I have such a good variety of people and have had the pleasure of meeting some of my guests. This is such a needed service I often times host health care workers that travel and they are looking for a home during their time. I am always inspired to do updates to my home which helps to keep neighborhoods growing in a positive direction. I myself am a health care worker for the last 28 years and most health care workers do not get pensions like other professions so I do save for my future retirement. I also donate a percentage back to the air b n b community to help house people in need. This is such a great business for all to help bring woman out of poverty , contribute to communities. Also creates other jobs in cleaning industry, photography work, adds value to homes which ultimately adds value and prevents the break down of neighborhood property. I urge Ohio to support this business for the good of many

Sincerely,
