

Tammy Soletro-Hazinakis:

Cameras should be allowed in nursing homes for family to monitor treatment of loved ones. Having cameras in rooms will help to hold staff accountable to the treatment/mistreatment of residents. Abuse is real and staff should be responsible for their actions.