SYNOPSIS

Sealing of conviction record of first degree misdemeanor domestic violence and other first degree misdemeanor offenses of violence

R.C. 2953.32

Modifies the bill's provisions that specify the time at which an application for sealing or expungement of a record of conviction may be made by specifying that:

1. An application regarding the record of conviction of a first degree misdemeanor offense of domestic violence may be made at the expiration of five years after the offender's final discharge (currently, the bill does not expressly specify a period for the making of such an application).

2. Except as otherwise provided in (1), above, or in other provisions under the bill that provide a longer period of time before an application may be filed, an application regarding a misdemeanor or a fourth or fifth degree felony may be made at the expiration of one year after the offender's final discharge, so long as none of the offenses is a violation of R.C. 2921.43 or a felony offense of violence (currently, the provision's exclusion is for any offense of violence -- as a result, it appears that there currently is no time specified when the offense is a misdemeanor offense of violence).
