

Testimony before the House Finance Committee
C. Todd Jones, President and General Counsel
Association of Independent Colleges and Universities of Ohio

October 4, 2023

Thank you, Chairman Edwards, and members of the House Finance Committee for allowing AICUO to submit written testimony on behalf of Ohio’s independent, nonprofit colleges and universities in support of House Bill (HB) 164.

AICUO represents 52 non-profit institutions of higher education across the state. Our members educate 134,000 students, and award one-third of the baccalaureate degrees in Ohio each year, and an even higher share of our state’s degrees in mathematics, natural and biological sciences, and other key areas of study.

HB 164, introduced by Representatives Jarrells and Seitz, would help provide foster youth with access to quality higher education by awarding each qualifying student a foster-to-college scholarship based on the student’s financial need. Nationwide, less than five percent of youth raised in foster care graduate from a four-year college, and only two to six percent complete a degree from a two-year college (National Foster Youth Institute). HB 164 would add Ohio to the list of 35 other states that offer similar scholarships for foster youth to attend college.

AICUO members have the capacity and desire to graduate as many current and future students as possible, which will bring more economic growth to Ohio and build the state's workforce pipeline. There is no doubt that post-secondary attainment is necessary. Ohio needs more of everything: more vocational training, more career tech, more credentials, more associate degrees, more baccalaureate graduates, and more post-doctoral degrees. Ohio lags on all fronts and in this global economy, just having a high school diploma will not cut it.

HB 164 is crucial in empowering foster youth to break the cycle of limited opportunities and provide better support to them in their pursuit of higher education. This small investment – one AICUO wholeheartedly supports – will lead to better outcomes and a brighter future for foster students today and generations to come.

While our institutions do everything they can financially do to assist those students in need, AICUO applauds Representatives Jarrells and Seitz's efforts to assist students that much more.
