Supporting the DD Workforce

Hello, my name is Delilah and I've been in the DD field for 13 years. I've grown to love what I do, but I feel we're very much underpaid. There are many jobs that pay more & don't require the patience or love to support our clients. Many companies are understaffed due to the pay. It takes a special kind of person to love and support individuals with intellectual disabilities. We should be recognized more!
