Supporting the DD Workforce

As a provider my name is on a list, and the amount of family members calling, and begging for help breaks my heart. Unfortunately I already work closer to if not more sometimes 50 hours a week. This cry for providers is awful, a good rate increase is a hope and a dream. This job as an independent has no benefits, only what we save can be used for emergencies and I believe this can help people who are unsure due to no benefits. Let's help these families get the help they need.
