Supporting the DD Workforce

My daughter died at 6 days old from an extremely rare genetic disease. I really believe that the hormones going into our food is accelerating genetic deformities. She was full term and all along they thought something was off but upon delivery they deemed me not high risk anymore as of the week before she was born. If she would have survived she would have no muscle tone and would need to be in a wheel chair, breathing and food support at a minimum. So I suppose the options are, fund people so they can help others live comfortably and give them the dignity they deserve or treat them as less than deserving.
