Kerry Byrne

President at Total Quality Logistics
Cincinnati, Ohio, United States

Summary

Executive leader with more than 30 years of experience growing and leading teams and businesses.

As President of TQL, I work to enable our exceptional teams to deliver unmatched levels of customer service. My passion is integrating technology and people by providing our customers and carriers with everything needed to succeed in their businesses. At TQL, we call our approach to customer service "high-tech, high-touch." It's important our customers and carriers can rely on TQL for the very best in technology, while always having access to personalized service 24/7/365.

Since our founding in 1997, TQL's unique, customer-centric business model has propelled our growth from a small, entrepreneurial start up to a company that is now the second-largest freight brokerage firm in the U.S. Since joining TQL in 2005, I've worked with some of the very best leaders in business to represent a company with 56 offices in 26 states and more than 5,000 employees, delivering more than 4.1 billion dollars in sales revenue. And, we're not finished growing. I look forward to helping lead TQL into a new decade of continued innovation in technology, new levels of customer satisfaction, and an expanded footprint in the freight brokerage industry.
