

Hello Chair O'Brien,

Hello from an Airbnb host family. We live in Cincinnati and run a small Airbnb in Wilmington, about 45 minutes north on I-71. We have been hosts for a year and a half now, and we love it. We are training our adult daughter, who is on the autism spectrum, in what it means to run a small family business. She's doing a terrific job at this, and it has been a great way for us to pay our expenses while also growing closer as a family. We also get to meet interesting people from all across the country.

I urge you to protect the right of people in Ohio to host short-term rentals. It's been a marvelous thing for our family.

Sincerely,

Jana
