Jared Cape, Budget Analyst

The bill is unlikely to have any fiscal impact on the state or political subdivisions. It prohibits covenants, conditions, or restrictions set forth in a deed, or rules, regulations, bylaws, governing documents, or other agreements of a homeowners, neighborhood, civic, or other association that ban the display of political yard signs. The bill does allow for some limited restrictions on the display of these signs, however. The provisions in the bill are similar to those that exist in current law regarding the display of service flags and POW/MIA flags.
