Robert Meeker, Senior Budget Analyst

The bill has minimal fiscal impact on the state and political subdivisions. The bill makes various changes related to the laws regarding trust and estate cases generally under the subject matter jurisdiction of the probate divisions of the courts of common pleas. The bill's specific modifications to trust and estate laws are detailed in the LSC bill analysis. Collectively, these provisions will have a minimal fiscal impact on the workload of the state's 88 probate courts, with any additional work and related operating expenses absorbed utilizing existing staff and appropriated resources.
