Dear Senator Eklund,

I am writing to ask you to oppose Senate Bill 33. This bill only exists to stop religious peaceful responsible people from exercising their free speech and to harm religious organizations.

My duty as a person of faith is to do all I can peacefully to protect God's creation and the health of all creatures. My duty as a grandmother is to do all I can to protect the health of my grandchildren and their children to come. My duty as a citizen of Ohio is to let my government know when it is doing the bidding of the oil and gas industry instead of responsibly caring for its people.

Ohioans are not pawns to be crushed when the oil and gas industry feels threatened. Existing laws already protect their property.

Thank you for opposing Senate Bill 33.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth Haehl
