

Dr. Steven Takacs was a throwback. He could have been a country doctor in the 1800s. He understood his patients' physical, emotional and spiritual needs, for nearly 3 decades it was his job to know every detail of his patients' lives, and to root out the mysteries of what is ailing them. Dr. Takacs said his practice has always emphasized the importance of family and his patients have become his second family. He often made house calls to homebound individuals and hospice visits for the dying.

He was also a friend to everyone, an example of being civic-minded, person-oriented and giving in to everything he did. The things Dr. Steve Takacs did for people can't be measured.

Dr. Steven Takacs held many positions, not only was he a Physician, he was a Captain in the United States Army Reserve, he was Coach, Volunteer, and He also served as an example to many local young adults who entered medicine after shadowing him during observation programs.

Dr. Steven Takacs was also a man of great faith, a loving husband, father and grandfather. I believe that it would be a fitting tribute to a man who devoted his life caring for his patients on a professional and personal level, recover from their medical issues, and to those patients and family members who were preparing for their next adventure to have the Dr. Steven Takacs Memorial Highway pass through the community where he worked and lived
