

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Shaun Schumacher
16074 E Township Road 104
Attica, OH 44807

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Pamela Lambert
5933 Barr Rd SW
Amanda, OH 43102

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Jane Doughton
329 Churchill Rd
Girard, OH 44420

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Jane Doughton
329 Churchill Rd
Girard, OH 44420

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Richard DiGregorio
1339 Stonington Dr
Youngstown, OH 44505

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Richard DiGregorio
1339 Stonington Dr
Youngstown, OH 44505

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Jeff Zeiter
2251 S Township Rd 197
Attica, OH 44807

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Ralph Carbone
829 N Christopher St
Bowling Green, OH 43402

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Gregory Kane
401 Victoria Pl
Toledo, OH 43610

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Arlie Holman
1209 Janis Ave
Akron, OH 44314

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Sara Fram
3221 Sunset Blvd
Steubenville, OH 43952

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Barbara Woloschak
1615 Gully Top Ln
Canfield, OH 44406

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Ellen Mettert
1220 Tyler St
Sandusky, OH 44870

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Becky McClure
4423 County Rd 1
Bellefontaine, OH 43311

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Dwayne Hershiser
3635 W Townline Rd 12
Willard, OH 44890

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Jon Darkow
93 Rosa Street
Tiffin, OH 44883

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Elaine Wilson
440 Oxford Ave
Newcomerstown, OH 43832

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Sandy Scanlon
10694 State Rte 762
Lockbourne, OH 43137

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
John Groby
231 Lafayette Ave
Urbana, OH 43078

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Karyn Temple
7575 Old Dayton Rd
Dayton, OH 45417

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Paul Nickels
118 Merry Rd
Bidwell, OH 45614

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Robert Burt
101 Canal St W
Navarre, OH 44662

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Greg Gatten
38 S Florence St
Springfield, OH 45505

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Sandra Rollins
6255 Telegraph Rd
Erie, MI 48133

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Christopher Lehr
513 E 6th St
Manchester, OH 45144

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Donna Eisnicher
271 W Park Ave
Columbus, OH 43223

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Anthony DaFonseca
6701 Queens Way
North Royalton, OH 44133

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Belinda Thomas
1235 OH-613
Mccomb, OH 45858

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Rich Beck
20562 Albion Rd
Strongsville, OH 44149

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Sarah Peters
26994 Primrose Ln
Westlake, OH 44145

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Jack VanBuskirk

Cleveland, OH 44109

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
David Harper
139 Woolf Ave
Akron, OH 44312

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Amanda Spencer
5536 Auburn Ave
Portsmouth, OH 45662

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Dayton Eckart
8221 Rustic Dr
Chardon, OH 44024

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Jim Neundorf
920 Forest Dr
Mansfield, OH 44905

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Jerry Early

Bellefontaine, OH 43311

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Herman Baumann
205 Lakeshore Dr W
Hebron, OH 43025

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
William Beaston
1356 Muirfield Pl
Fostoria, OH 44830

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Diane Swartzmiller
7542 S Township Rd 191
Attica, OH 44807

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Jo Taylor

Tiffin, OH 44883

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Danielle McClory
1311 Clinton Street
Fremont, OH 43420

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Dan Janiw
641 Shadowood Ln SE
Warren, OH 44484

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Joseph Vinci
2631 Wildwood Ave NE
Canton, OH 44714

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Deb Sneddon
673 N Walnut St
Celina, OH 45822

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Mike Bushaw
6765 Summerdale Dr
Dayton, OH 45424

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Richard Fink
8039 Upper Twin Rd
South Salem, OH 45681

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Richard Busch
863 Peru Olena Rd E
Norwalk, OH 44857

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Lonny Johnson
2932 Carpenter Rd
Ashtabula, OH 44004

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Ronald Hileman
1114 Olive
Niles, OH 44446

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Ray Barnt
3080 E Hanthorn Rd
Lima, OH 45804

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Kathy Woods
2044 Hubbard Rd
Madison, OH 44057

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Nancy Dolman
105 Three Meadows Ct
Perrysburg, OH 43551

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Charles Lade
310 Ralston Ave
Defiance, OH 43512

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Lois Nehls
2620 County. Rd. 181
Clyde, OH 43410

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Dianne Van Hoose
1424 Warder St
Springfield, OH 45503

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Dale Marich
10012 Edgepark Dr
Garfield Heights, OH 44125

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Mark Weisenauer
11297 E Co Rd 58
Bloomville, OH 44818

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Joanne Morgan
8130 Woodward-Claypool Rd
Morrow, OH 45152

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Martha McGinnis
966 Moon Rd
Columbus, OH 43224

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Andrea Zemel
18210 Snyder Rd
Chagrin Falls, OH 44023