

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Susan Jacoby
313 Montrose Ave NW
Canton, OH 44708

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Dawn Ronski
1604 Bark Ln Dr
Fremont, OH 43420

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Holly Hoffert
461 W Lytle St, Lot 33
Fostoria, OH 44830

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Chuck Wonner
6047 Pickway Dr
Brook Park, OH 44142

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Virginia Williams
1103 Charlevoix Ave
Wheelersburg, OH 45694

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Larry Heater
10045 Middle Rd
Defiance, OH 43512

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
John Yaworsky
4730 OH-60
Wakeman, OH 44889

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Ruth Nader

Hinckley, OH 44233

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Thomas Albright
3917 Mengel Dr
Kettering, OH 45429

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Gloria Villarreal
715 Clark St
Toledo, OH 43605

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Cathy Myerholtz

Castalia, OH 44824

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Regina Markwell
1706 E 45th St
Ashtabula, OH 44004

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Candi Baker
725 Buckley St
Fostoria, OH 44830

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Dusty Struthers
5037 Caledonia Mud Pike
Caledonia, OH 43314

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Juliana Bright-Fuerst
3995 S Green Rd
Beachwood, OH 44122

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Sandy Six
10401 Salem Rd
Athens, OH 45701

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
William Golden
20604 Lorain Road, Apt. C-4
Fairview Park, OH 44126

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Phillip Beiler
6416 Young Rd
Bellevue, OH 44811

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Victoria Russell
1414 Hollyrood Rd
Sandusky, OH 44870

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Amy nagel
4505 s county road 23
Attica, OH 44807

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Carole Peltz
5800 South Winds Dr.
Mentor-on-the-lake, OH 44060

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Cindy Voss
128 Asbury Rd
Cincinnati, OH 45255

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Albert Meyers
7853 East Twp Rd 122
Republic, OH 44867

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Kim ball
391 Jennifer Rd
Attica, OH 44807

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Julie Davies
20 Lelar St
Tiffin, OH 44883

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Kim ball
391 Jennifer road Attica Ohio
Attica, OH 44807

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Ricco Daniels
21 Memorial Drive
Berlin Heights, OH 44814

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Nancy Grandillo
491 Circular St
Tiffin, OH 44883

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Jennifer Brickner-York
579 Wickham Way
Columbus, OH 43230

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Norma Schalk
22 W Tiffin Street, P O Box 181
New Riegel, OH 44853

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Diane Willis
15103 South St
Wakeman, OH 44889

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Mary Musko
327 Cedar Point Rd
Sandusky, OH 44870

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Dean Schimpf
3291 New Washington Rd
Bloomville, OH 44818

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

This bill will kill thousands of jobs in the renewable energy sector at a time when Ohio is far behind all other states.

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Thomas Nappier
19015 E SHORELAND AVE
Rocky River, OH 44116

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
lee mendoza
19736 Road 1038
Oakwood, OH 45873

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
John Haught
5666 Weidner Rd
Springboro, OH 45066

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Wayne Monroe
419 E 5th St
Waverly, OH 45690

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Sharon Temple
5818 Palmer Rd
Millersport, OH 43046

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Paulette Capperis
4460 Granada Blvd
Warrensville Heights, OH 44128

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Kevin davis
7528 E Sparta Ave
Magnolia, OH 44643

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Donald Martin
1786 Wurtz Rd Attica OH
Attica, OH 44807

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Tonia Hoffert
5146 east cr. 12
Bloomville, OH 44818

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Pat Pollard
Westlake Dr
Galloway, OH 43119

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Anthony Holmer
3241 North county road 27 Bellevue Ohio
Bellevue, OH 44811

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Elizabeth Stierhoff
5620 Delores Drive
Castalia, OH 44824

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

Also, coal, oil, gas release carbon dioxide into the atmosphere, it also, releases radiation.

Where as wind generators don't release either.

Nor do they cause the workers black lung and other medical issues such as cancer.

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,

Maynard Eatherton

533 S Main St

Fostoria, OH 44830

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Sharon McCleary
331 6th Ave
Galion, OH 44833

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Sharon McCleary
331 Sixth Ave Apt 903
Galion, OH 44833

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Douglas Adams
3711 Strecker Rd
Monroeville, OH 44847

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Ronald Fry
3836 S CR 43
Bloomville, OH 44818

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Lance Franke
Sandusky Ohio
Sandusky, OH 44870

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Anne Fry
3836 S CR 43
Bloomville, OH 44818

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
James Schumacher
16094 E Township Rd 104
Attica, OH 44807

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Joyce Kinney
14748 Township Rd 178
Bellevue, OH 44811

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Christine McCune
8355 State Route 800 S.E.
Uhrichsville, OH 44683

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Michael Estep
506 E Perry St.
Tiffin, OH 44883

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Sean Thompson
150 S State Route 4
Attica, OH 44807

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Nana Schumacher
16094 E Township Rd 104
Attica, OH 44807

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Brenda Chaffin
212 N 3rd St
North Baltimore, OH 45872

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Gary Spaide
600 lime st.
Fremont, OH 43420

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Donald Weaver
910 S State Route 67
Republic, OH 44867

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Sue Raftery
1157 Peru Hollow Road
Norwalk, OH 44857

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Cecilia Easton
244 N Galena Rd
Sunbury, OH 43074

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Ryan scott
211 John St
Bellevue, OH 44811

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Sandy Holmer
2145 N County Rd 27
Republic, OH 44867

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Sylvia Samuels
3388 McHenry Ave
Cincinnati, OH 45225

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Lynda Ream
337 Red Oak Dr
Fairborn, OH 45324

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Cj McIntire
171 High St
Bellevue, OH 44811

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Jeff Westerkamp
7281 Clough Pike
Cincinnati, OH 45244

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Gretta Miles
104 N 4th St
Miamisburg, OH 45342

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Peggy Zimmerman
1556 Cohasset Ave
Lakewood, OH 44107

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Elizabeth Hopsecger
19505 E River Rd
Columbia Station, OH 44028

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Carole Louy
9110 S River Rd
Waterville, OH 43566

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Evelyn Combs
10329 Love-Day Rd
Hamersville, OH 45130

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Sherry Becker-Gorby
Township Rd 15
, OH 43943

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Dan Lehman
103 Diamond Dr
Antwerp, OH 45813

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Alvin Reed
1622 S Fountain Ave
Springfield, OH 45506

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Richard Horton
319 Thurman Ave
Columbus, OH 43206

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Laura Lambert
17522 Independence Ct
Brook Park, OH 44142

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Victoria Ziegler
120 Crestview Dr
Tiffin, OH 44883

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Priscilla White
5957 319th St
Toledo, OH 43611

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Bill Twitty
1989 Marion Rd NW
Utica, OH 43080

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Ron Weber
2431 Red Coach Dr
Springfield, OH 45503

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Kenneth Amburgey

Sugar Grove, OH 43155

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Linda Purkey
6399 S Dixie Hwy
Franklin, OH 45005

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Matt Holcomb
Crabapple Way Dr
, OH 45150

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Ken Schmidt
Jason Dr
North Ridgeville, OH 44039

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Wendy Mizanin
5963 Meadowsglen Dr
Dublin, OH 43017

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
BA Levy
252 Broadway
Youngstown, OH 44504

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Cricket McGraw 1665 13th St SW
Akron, OH 44314

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Sue Montgomery
1402 8th St
West Portsmouth, OH 45663

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Roy Vonderau
3871 W 34th St
Cleveland, OH 44109

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Terry Dillon
3657 Singing Wind Way
Urbana, OH 43078

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Sue Bicknell
12761 Doria Ct
Strongsville, OH 44149

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Lawrence Holmer
1795 S. Elliston-Trowbridge Rd #13
Elmore, OH 43416

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Maria-Francesca Fleming
128 E Oakland Ave
Columbus, OH 43201

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Joe Harper
1750 OH-53
Tiffin, OH 44883

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
John Loomis
2294 Marion-Green Camp Rd
Marion, OH 43302

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Miriam Murray
24639 OH-180
Rockbridge, OH 43149

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Laura Winters-Duke
20997 OH-772
Waverly, OH 45690

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Christine Zimmerman
2674 Swailes Rd
Troy, OH 45373

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
JOAN STRIFLER
3998 W Edgerton Rd
Broadview Heights, OH 44147

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Jeff Norris
534 N Main St
Navarre, OH 44662

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
CHUCK ROGERS
2277 GREENWICH EAST TOWNLINE RD S
New London, OH 44851

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
John Jones
501 Adams Ave
Huron, OH 44839

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Susan Handa
887 Hunter Ridge Circle
Fairlawn, OH 44333

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Eric Williams
628 SCR 278
Clyde, OH 43410

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
James Schumacher
16094 East Twp Rd 104
Attica, OH 44807

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Daniel Parr
199 Silver Fox Court
Loveland, OH 45140

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Susan Combs
842 Oslo Cove
Eaton, OH 45320

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Thomas Buffington
305 E Tiffin St
Attica, OH 44807

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Doug Newlove
2139 S Township Rd 159
Tiffin, OH 44883

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Janet Moore
790 Danny Dr
Cincinnati, OH 45245

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Kevin Meyers
3913 Hilltop Dr
Huron, OH 44839

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Sheila Zenisek
607 THOMPSON ST
Fremont, OH 43420

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Michael Shumway
14568 County Rd 34
Bellevue, OH 44811

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Katherine Kemp
2779 Section Line Road 30
Bellevue, OH 44811

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Kurt Dunn
1500 e co rd 50
Tiffin, OH 44883

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Jessica Forman
7414 Township Road 163
Bloomville, OH 44818

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
kevin davis
7528 e sparta ave, None
Magnolia, OH 44643

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Mike Erf
4734 Yingling Road
Bellevue, OH 44811

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time....Do not allow the Rights of the People to be stomped on by Capitalist who care only for profit.....

Thank You

Susan Montgomery

Regards,

Susan Montgomery

1402 8th street

West Portsmouth, OH 45663

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Mary Musko
327 Cedar Point Rd
Sandusky, OH 44870

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Kevin Meyers
3913 Hilltop Dr
Huron, OH 44839

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Sylvia Webster
489 S Harley St
Tiffin, OH 44883

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Tim Holmer
2145 N County Rd 27
Republic, OH 44867

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Gemma Marschke
51 Lawndale Drive
Tiffin, OH 44883

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
victoria Ziegler
120 Crestview Dr
Tiffin, OH 44883

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Daniel Wood
1150 Ridge Road
Norwalk, OH 44857

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Pat pollard
5697 Westlake Dr
Galloway, OH 43119

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Matthew Weaver
107 East 12th Street
Genoa, OH 43430

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Linda Schubach
5932 Township Rd 169
Tiffin, OH 44836

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Edward Sterner
4670 Peru Center Rd N
Monroeville, OH 44847

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Edward Sterner
4670 Peru Center Rd N
Monroeville, OH 44847

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Larry Philipps
1034twp293.
Fostoria, OH 44830

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
JOYCE. KINNEY
14748 Township Rd 178
Bellevue, OH 44811

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Randy Laws
5295 OH-99
Monroeville, OH 44847

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

YES I ENCOURAGE YOU TO STAND WITH THE LAND OWNER! THESE ANTI PEOPLE DID NOT BUY THE PROPERTY WE DID, WE PAID FOR IT, WE PAY THE TAXES ON OUR LAND AND WE PAY FOR THE UP KEEP AND MAINTENANCE ON IT. THESE ANTI PEOPLE HAVE NO RIGHT TO TELL US WHAT WE CAN DO WITH OUR PROPERTY. SO, I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Sandy Holmer
2145 N County Rd 27
Republic, OH 44867

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Adam Smith
534 Pierce St
Sandusky, OH 44870

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Donald Laufersweiler
256 S Virginialee Rd
Columbus, OH 43209

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Terry Mautz
904 Grand Pass
Sandusky, OH 44870

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Margo Flickinger
6349 Belding Rd NE
Rockford, MI 49341

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Peggy zimmerman
1556 Cohassett Ave
Lakewood, OH 44107

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Dale Marich
10012 Edgepark
Garfield Heights, OH 44125

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
William Montgomery
374 Erie Beach Road
Lakeside Marblehead, OH 43440

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Jennifer Brickner-York
579 Wickham Way
Columbus, OH 43230

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Roscoe Loose
5224 n Twp Rd 179
Republic, OH 44867

Dear Chairman Wilson,

I'm writing to you today to express my strong opposition to Senate Bill 234. This bill is an attack on private property rights and a threat to businesses investing in the state.

Participation in these wind projects is a choice, one that many folks across Ohio have made. Whether folks are choosing to participate as a source of income, to see the state move forward to more renewable energy sources, or for any other reasons, this is a choice for the landowner and the landowner alone to make. A referendum process like the one proposed strips away that choice from landowners and gives the township control over what folks do with their own land.

Essentially, this allows people's neighbors to have veto power over development on their property. What will be next? Neighbors being allowed to veto a new hog barn, silo, garage, or house?

I strongly encourage you to stand with landowners and oppose this threat to property rights and businesses looking to invest in Ohio. Thank you very much for your time.

Regards,
Brenda Chaffin
212 N. Third Street
North Baltimore, OH 45872